Bus use increased with non-essential retail & outdoor hospitality opening

The week commencing 12th April showed large increase in all cohorts as non-essential retail and outdoor hospitality re-opened and some schools returned after their Easter holidays. The increase in use by adult, disabled, and senior cohorts all showed the biggest increase in any weekday period since the government first started advising people to reduce non-essential travel. Use by younger cohorts was initially dampened as it was still the Easter holidays for some institutions.
